

ERRATA

An error occurred in the article by Stark et al, titled "Descriptive analysis of eating behavior of school-age children with cystic fibrosis and healthy control children," that was published in the May 1997 issue of Pediatrics (1997;99:665–671). In the "Methods" section on page 666, the sentence currently reads: "Forty-six percent were female, and 54% were male." It should read: "Fifty-four percent were female, and 46% were male."

Two errors occurred in the article by Sherry et al, titled "Evaluation of and recommendations for growth references for very low birth weight (≤ 1500 grams) infants in the United States," that was published in the April 2003 issue of Pediatrics (2003;111:750–758). On page 751, left column (first full paragraph of text), the second sentence currently reads: "Current standards of care, which include the use of prenatal steroids and prenatal surfactants as well as earlier, more aggressive nutritional therapy, potentially could improve the growth status and affect the patterns of growth of these infants.^{14–16}" It should read: "Current standards of care, which include the use of prenatal steroids and postnatal surfactants as well as earlier, more aggressive nutritional therapy, potentially could improve the growth status and affect the patterns of growth of these infants.^{14–16}" On page 755, Figure 4, the y-axis title currently reads: "Length (cm)." The y-axis title should read: "Head Circumference."
