

About This Synopsis Book

The reviews contained in the 2017 synopsis were written by fellows of the American Academy of Pediatrics Section on Allergy and Immunology, fellows in allergy and immunology, and pediatrics residents in training programs who contributed reviews with their mentors.

The editors selected the journals to be reviewed on the basis of the likelihood that they would contain articles on allergy and immunology that would be of value and interest to pediatricians. Each journal was assigned to a voluntary reviewer, who was responsible for selecting articles and writing reviews of the articles. Only articles of original research were selected for review. Final selection of the articles to be included was made by the editor.

The 2016 to 2017 journals chosen for review were as follows: Allergy; American Journal of Respiratory and Critical Care Medicine; Annals of Allergy, Asthma, and Immunology; Annals of Internal Medicine; British Journal of Dermatology; Cell; Chest; Clinical and Experimental Allergy; European Respiratory Journal; International Archives of Allergy and Immunology; Journal of Allergy and Clinical Immunology; Journal of Allergy and Clinical Immunology: In Practice; Journal of the American Medical Association Pediatrics; Journal of the American Academy of Dermatology; Journal of the American Medical Association; Journal of Asthma; Journal of Pediatric Gastroenterology and Nutrition; Journal of Pediatrics; The Lancet; Nature; New England Journal of Medicine; Pediatrics; Pediatric Allergy and Immunology; and Science Translational Medicine.
