Publish Your Supplement in Pediatrics®
Most-Cited Journal in Pediatric Medicine (77,308 accumulative citations in 2018)
Clarivate Analytics 2018 Journal Citation Reports

Pediatrics Supplements

Since 1998, AAP journals has coordinated the publishing of special sponsored supplements in Pediatrics. The benefits of producing a supplement are numerous—

- Your original research published in prestigious journal including citation in PubMed
- Mass distribution co-mailing of supplement with the print journal to all AAP Members, trainees, and additional paid print subscribers of Pediatrics (70,000+)
- Permanent placement in Pediatrics’ online journal of record pediatrics.org
- Supplement contents are formally evaluated by volunteer Pediatrics peer reviewers
- Supplement contents are open-access from the date of publication
- Featured in the monthly all-member email distribution of Pediatrics Insight.

Supplements are sponsored sets of articles on a single topic or a theme pertinent to pediatrics. Such sets of articles may come from the proceedings of sponsored meetings, reports from task forces or committees, organizations interested in focused subject matter, or research groups.

For more information including costs and submission criteria, visit aappublications.org/content/pediatrics-author-guidelines#supplements

View published Pediatrics Supplements at pediatrics.aappublications.org/content/supplemental

Contact Us supplements@aap.org